

Dr. Alexi Vellianitis

DPhil in Musicology; St Catherine's College,
University of Oxford.

- Former admissions tutor at Oxford University
- Former tutor and lecturer at Oxford University
- Associate Fellow of The Higher Education Academy
- 3+ years of teaching experience
- Published academic author

“Hello! I specialise in one-on-one teaching, and always tailor my approach to each individual student's needs. All of my teaching is based on the Oxford tutorial model. I teach music analysis and composition, and music history with a particular strength in sociology and cultural studies. More than $\frac{3}{4}$ of my university students have received first class or high upper second-class marks in modules I have taught them.” –Alexi

Subjects Taught:

- Music history and musicology
- Music theory and analysis
- Music composition
- Study skills
- Essay writing
- Interview technique
- Exam technique
- Application support
- Vocabulary

Educational Background:

BMus (Music), King's College London, average mark 73

MSt in Musicology, Oxford, average mark 77, with a distinction in all assessed modules

DPhil in Music, University of Oxford

Teaching Experience:

Graduate Teaching Assistant, New College, Oxford, October 2013-December 2014; Lecturer in Music, St Catherine's College, Oxford, October 2014-September 2018; Tutor for various courses in twentieth and twenty-first century music for Hertford, Magdalen, Oriel, Queen's, Somerville, St Anne's, St Catherine's, St Hilda's, and New; Colleges, 2014-2019; Admissions interviewer for Music, University of Oxford, annually, 2013-2019; Central marker for admissions written work in Music, annually, 2014-2017; Alexi has also taught many international visiting students to Oxford, and school students in the UK. Alexi has written and published academic work, and is an experienced editor of fiction and non-fiction. Alexi teaches on Skype and in person.

Scholarships:

Early Career Fellowship, Institute of Musical Research, London
Arts and Humanities Research Council Full Grant for Doctoral Study
Oxford Music Faculty Research Grant
St Peter's College, Oxford, Research Grant

Alexi Vellianitis

Rates (gbp per hour):

Individual Tutor's Rates Made Available Upon Enquiry

Please see 'FAQ' page for guidance

Marking:

All Canis Major tutors offer marking at a rate of £15 per 1000 words with a turnaround of three days
£25 per 1000 words with a turnaround of 24 hours

Volunteer Access Support:

Dr. Vellianitis has kindly offered to provide some free support to students from underprivileged backgrounds, especially regarding his Introduction to Musicology crash course. He is, himself, state school educated and the first member of his immediate family to go to university. If you, or anyone you know, could benefit from this help please get in touch.

Top Tip:

'High level learning means being open to new ideas. Be aware of your own opinions, critically engage with the opinions of others, and follow your instincts!'